Ever wonder why Sal & Mookie's pizzas are so good? It's because our dough is made from scratch daily, and we use only the freshest ingredients available. Take a peek through our kitchen window to see what making hand-tossed, New York style pizza is all about!

What is New York Pizza?

So, what is New York style pizza?

There are over 20 recognized variations of pizza served in the United States. Many of these are actually derivatives or close "cousins" of New York style pizza. A New York Pizza is usually large (generally 18"-19" in diameter) and hand-tossed, giving it a very thin crust. Traditionally, it has a tomato sauce base and mozzarella cheese as a topping. Additional toppings are usually added on top of the cheese.

Did pizza really originate in New York?

Well, pizza's true origins are in Italy. But, we can with some accuracy state that New York style pizza as we know it was first made in New York City in the early 1900's by Lombardi's Pizzeria, which is widely credited with being the first pizzeria in the United States. We appreciate Lombardi's contributions so much, we named a pizza for its founder, Gennaro Lombardi!

Is New York style pizza supposed to be greasy?

Our pizza may seem greasy, but this is a by-product of our restaurant's high standards. Sal & Mookie's uses only top quality ingredients, and thus, our cheeses typically have a high butterfat content. So, while our melted cheese may often yield a "greasy" appearance, its taste and resistance to burning makes it far superior to the "low moisture, part skim" cheeses often used by the national pizza chains.

Ok, so why serve New York style pizza in Mississippi?

That's easy! Because it tastes fantastic!!!
At Sal & Mookie's, our goal is to stay true to the legacy of the New York style pizza pie, while also offering you exciting, out-of-the-ordinary flavor combinations. We think you'll agree that our New York style pizza does the Big Apple proud!

NEW YORK PIZZA & ICE CREAM JOINT

"In the Historic Fondren District"

We care about quality ingredients and know you do too. That's why we hand-craft our pizzas from only the finest ingredients. We start with home-made, hand-tossed pizza dough made with only King Arthur flour, Kosher salt, filtered water, Fleischmann's yeast and Italian extra virgin olive oil — no stabilizers or artificial ingredients go near our mixer. Our pies are topped with the finest whole milk mozzarella cheese and Italian imported plum tomatoes. Other toppings have been selected for their unrivaled taste and quality. Last, but not least, we bake each pie slowly in brick-lined, gas-fired deck ovens the old fashioned way. Don't even try to compare our pies to mass-market pizza — there is no comparison!
